Android

India is Android's heartland. And its biggest leak.

700M+ users. #1 smartphone market (ex-China).
#2 premium Android market globally.

But 200M+ sit in the $200–400 tier, our highest-churn segment.
And ~50% of India's iPhone upgraders started there.

THE JOB:

Turn silent Android user satisfaction into
Android fandom and loud pride.
MAKE ANDROID COOL

Android

THE PROBLEM

People don't leave Android. They graduate from it.
First salary. New city. Wedding.

The iPhone is how India says "I've made it."

Our enemy isn't Apple. It's the cultural script:
Arriving = Switching.

Android

Though the Apple logo says "I've arrived", for Gen Z, knowing is the new arriving.

Status has moved from what you own to what you know

From wealth to taste
Coveted items now signal you were early & in the know, not rich. (Vogue)

Loud < Understated
Indian Gen Z is trading loud logos for an understated look; big logos read try-hard. (Highsnobiety/Elle)

Research as a mandate
Indian Gen Z is 1.5x more likely to research before buying & share finds with their inner circle. (Snap × BCG)

The link is currency
Creators gate keep links behind "comment to get it." & it works: 46 comments per post vs 18. (Homegrown)

Knowing > Showing.

Android

THE STRATEGIC IDEA

Android is for the ones who know.

Circle to Search → The Quick Find
Never have to ask for a link.

Gemini Live → The Right Answer
Never ask the dumb question out loud.

Android

WHY THIS WORKS?

The leak happens at the upgrade moment

the upgrade moment is a status ritual; a mark of success

But status for young India is moving from showing → knowing

And Android's Smarter features are just the right tools for that

We want to make Android users the visible in-the-know tribe

Upgrading within Android = levelling up.
Switching (to iPhone) = starting over as the one who asks.

Android

OUR APPROACH

GET
sub-premium Android users approaching their upgrade moment

TO
see premium Android as the level-up of who they already are

BY making Android users the visible "ones who know" in Indian internet culture

FOR THE ONES WHO KNOW. THAT'S WHY ANDROID.

SAIFEENA

Android

SAFER THAN SAIF

Saif is known for his eccentric personality. Kareena knows that if he's left to his own devices, nobody around him is safe.

So, we hand Kareena a device: the latest Pixel with Android and its features.

We create a series of thumb stoppers around Saif's unhinged behaviour, with Kareena swooping in to salvage each situation using Android features.

SAFER THAN SAIF

SCRIPT | GHALIB

Saif is giving an interview to a news channel online.
SAIF (to Kareena): I'm on national TV!

ANCHOR: Do you read Faiz & Ghalib now, ab toh umar bhi hai?
SAIF (fakes it): Yes, yes, I do read. You know, it's important for you as an artist.
Kareena gives him a “What a liar” look.
ANCHOR: Toh koi shayari pesh kiya jaayein.
Saif goes blank. He pretends to remember.
SAIF: A... umm...

Kareena long-presses the power button and asks Gemini for a shayari by Ghalib. She shows it to Saif.
SAIF reads: “Ishq ne 'Ghalib' nikamma kar diya, varna hum bhi aadmi the kaam ke.”

SUPER: That's why Android.
(Android Robot appears wearing a Ghalib-style hat.)

Caption: Safer than Saif. That’s why Android.

SAFER THAN SAIF

SCRIPT | THE SWORD

Saif and Kareena are walking in their hallway and Saif picks up an antique looking sword.

SAIF (while swinging it): “I’ve completely forgotten if this is real...woww”

KAREENA (dodging a little): “Can we not discover that experimentally?”

Kareena circles the sword and it shows it as a genuine 19th-century collectible.

Saif slowly puts in done making an “oops” face.

SUPER: Safer than Saif. That’s why Android.

Android

SAFER THAN SAIF

SCRIPT | RACER SAIF

Saif & Kareena are at home. Saif is on a GMeet.

CLIENT: We want this to be real. You'll drive an actual F1 car. No stuntmen.
SAIF: Yeah. What's difficult about that?
Kareena looks shocked.

SAIF: You know na... Tara Rum Pum... aakhir race hamesha meri thi, aur meri hi rahegi.
Kareena frantically mouths "NO!"

She asks Gemini Live
KAREENA: Can Saif drive an actual F1 car?
GEMINI: He'd need intense physical conditioning physique & a specific racing licence, which he does not have.

CUT TO SAIF LOOKING IN CAMERA: Blank face. Funny music.
Supers: That's why android (Android Robot blinks)

Caption: Safer than Saif. That's why Android.

Android

JAB VIRAL MET SAIF

Extension:

We start with showing the iconic clip of Saif saying “humare bedroom mein hi aa jaiye” and cut to showing Viral Bhayani in a bedroom and he is asking Gemini Live about the Nawabi things he is finding for eg: trinkets, a famous painting, frames of his ancestors etc.

Saif comes and gives a surprising look and we end with Viral saying: “aap hi ne toh kaha tha uss din...”

Android

KEEPING UP WITH SAIFEENA

People are always curious about the lives of their favourite actors beyond what they see on screen. With Saif and Kareena, that curiosity only gets stronger.

But what happens when the cameras keep rolling off screen?

We turn Saifeena's everyday life into an ongoing content IP, where each episode gives us a glimpse into their world while naturally revealing an Android feature along the way.

A little more Saifeena. A little more Android. Every episode.

Android

KEEPING UP WITH SAIFEENA

Morning: Saifeena sits down for breakfast, but Kareena is annoyed.
Kareena: “You finished without me?”
Saif: “Arey, you fell asleep bebo, what was I supposed to do?”
They then use Gemini Live to settle this debate

Hey Gemini, is it okay to keep watching a TV show if your partner falls asleep midway?

Afternoon: Kareena returns tired from a shoot and she wants a sweet treat. We show the flashback where Saif had used Circle To Search to find her favourite and whipped up a dessert for her.

Night: Kareena’s family is coming over. With Gemini Live, she comes up with fun party games to get the night started!

BRAND PARTNERSHIPS

Android

CIRCLE SUPREME

We partner with Marvel.

WHY?

Doctor Strange's iconic circular gesture opens a portal that lets him reach beyond his world and bring exactly what he wants into it.

It's essentially Circle to Search, but with magic.

So, we bring in Purav Jha, known for his multi-character comedy sketches on YouTube, to play Doctor Strange, alongside a friend playing Wong.

Android

CIRCLE SUPREME

Script

Dr. Strange is competing with Wong to find strange things using Circle to Search. He brings in an alligator dining table.
Strange: “Can you do it? Haan? Can you?”

Wong uses Circle to Search on the same table and gets more options: “Yes.”

Strange is not happy. He tries harder and gets a three-eyed mask.
Strange: “What about this?”

Wong searches with Circle to Search and finds it within a second.
Dr. Strange gets rage-baited and breaks a few things.

Now he brings in the Hand of Thanos and starts celebrating.
Strange: “Yes, I did it! Yes! Yes!”
Wong says, “Yep. Got it. With an extra pair of stones btw.”

Strange pauses for a moment and leaves saying:
Strange: “Mujhe nahi khelna, yaar.”

SUPER: Circle to Search. It’s not that strange.
Visual: Android Robot with Dr. Strange’s cloak.

Android

CIRCLE DROP

We partner with Nykaa Fashion to create an Android access only fashion experience.

WHY?

To turn a physical installation into a searchable store. The products create the desire, Circle to Search creates the discovery, and Nykaa Fashion closes the loop with purchase.

Visitors explore the fashion drop and use Circle to Search to instantly identify the exact product and find it on Nykaa Fashion.

On buying, they can unlock a special Circle Price: from discounts to surprise free drops.

Android

THE DATE LAB

A blind-dating experience in partnership with Bumble, powered by Gemini Live.

Singles bring a few objects that say something about who they are and place them in a basket.

Before meeting, their potential matches use Gemini Live to explore the objects and uncover the personality behind them.

They ask Gemini questions and decide which mystery person they're curious enough to meet.

Android

SHIT HAPPENS.
ANDROID HELPS.

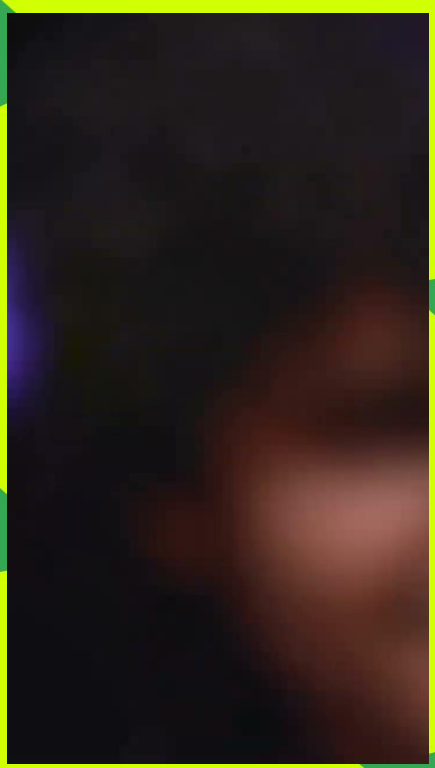

A RelationShit Advice collab where Gemini Live gives dating-related solutions.

We show Raunaq doing crowdwork, probably stemming from a mailed question:
Raunaq: “Accha? Toh where did you guys even go?”
“McDonald’s.”

Raunaq: “Bhai, first date pe McDonald’s? At least pretend you have money.”

He turns to Gemini Live: “Okay Gemini, they’re in Mumbai, they want a fun first date, nothing too expensive and definitely not dinner. What should they do?”

Gemini throws out a few ideas. Raunaq and the panel discuss the same.

CREATOR ECONOMY

Android

WHAT IF?

Comedians recreate iconic moments from history with a very modern twist, in a reality-show style.

Talent Suggestion:
Cleopatra: Mithila Palkar
Graham Bell: Rohan Joshi
Newton: Varun Grover
Odysseus: Abhishek Upmanyu
Aryabhatta: Biswa Kalyan Rath

Android

SAMPLE SCRIPT:
Reality-show style. Dramatic music. Close-ups. Each character gets their own confessional.

NEWTON: Apple was trauma for me
ARYABHATTA: Zero was hard enough. Imagine doing everything without AI.
CLEOPATRA: Finding the right jewellery was so exhausting.
ODYSSEUS: Twenty years! It took me twenty years to get home.
CLEOPATRA: Royalty should not have to shop like this

NEWTON: I could have asked Gemini.
He long-presses the power button.
NEWTON: Why does this fall?
GEMINI LIVE: Because of gravity.
ARYABHATTA: You people have Gemini and you're still doing maths manually?

CLEOPATRA uses Circle to Search.
Instantly gets the necklace, similar options and prices.
CLEOPATRA: I could've had a social life.
ARYABHATTA: For me it was more like Search of a Circle.

ODYSSEUS opens Maps.
ODYSSEUS: Oh, the Troy-Ithaca Expressway was open...
I could've been home for dinner.
contd.

Script contd.
GRAHAM BELL: People keep talking about these phones.
I invented the telephone.
NEWTON: He says that a lot.
ARYABHATTA: Every interview.

Someone gives him a cold drink. He pays with Tap & Pay.
GRAHAM BELL: But I have to say, Android you nailed it.

<Dramatically>
NEWTON: If I had Android, I could've come up with a couple more laws.
CLEOPATRA: I would've ruled longer.
ODYSSEUS: I would've reached home a lot sooner.
ARYABHATTA: And, I could've... actually I loved all the attention haha.

SUPER: If history had Android, history would be different.

CUT TO GRAHAM BELL.
GRAHAM BELL: But you have Android. You know what I mean.

Similarly, we can create a pop culture series with character from CID, Shakalaka boom boom, Sonpari etc.

Android

LATE NIGHT WITH ANDROID

India's first talk show where AI is the host.

A celebrity/creator sits on the couch, but the interactions are done with Gemini Live.

The vibe of the set up is unexpected and catches you off guard.

Gemini: "I have 3 questions. One from your fans, one from your mum, and one from the internet. Which one are you avoiding?"

Android

WAIT, WHAT'S THAT?

You know that thing you just HAVE to know?
Pranay Joshi does too. Except he turns it into a dare.

The rule is simple:
If it makes you curious, investigate it.

Armed with Android, Pranay takes on ridiculous dares, using Circle to Search and Gemini Live he decodes, with a timer running,

Android

WAIT, WHAT'S THAT?

Dare 1: The Burger Hunt

He spots someone eating a delicious burger and gives himself a dare: to find the restaurant in 10 minutes. Using Android (circle to search), he investigates the logo, location and races to find the place.

Dare 2: Guess the Fit

Pranay spots people in interesting outfits and gives himself a dare: to guess how much their entire outfit costs. Using Gemini Live, he estimates the price of each look and then reveals the actual cost to see how close he got.

Android

OUT OF PLACE

A fun creator series where we throw India's most recognisable personalities into worlds they've never belonged in.

We take creators far outside their comfort zones and give them just one way to navigate the unfamiliar: Gemini Live.

Orry at a wholesale market.
Rebel Kid at a monastery.
Anuj MP4 at Chor Bazaar.

They talk to Gemini Live in real time to understand the rules, people and situations around them.

Completely out of place. Never completely lost.
That's Why Android.

Android

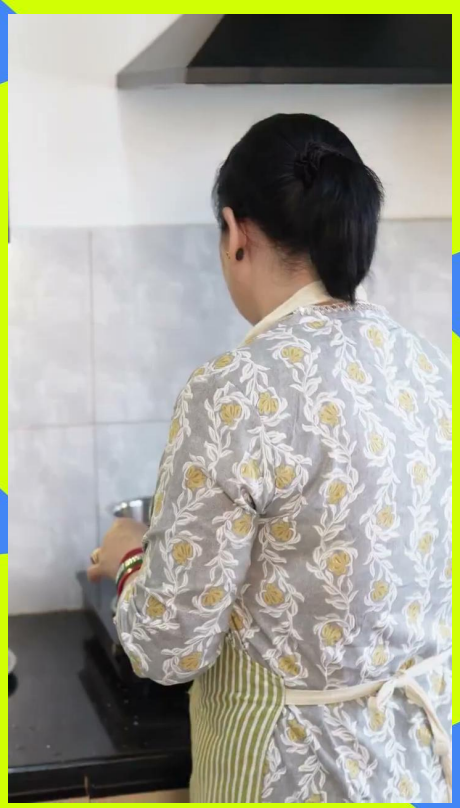

WHAT'S IN MY FRIDGE?

We take the internet-famous What's In My Bag? format and give it a Cook With Raji twist.

Raji opens her fridge and shows us whatever ingredients she happens to have. Instead of planning a recipe in advance, she uses Gemini Live or Circle to Search on Android to figure out what she can make with them.

Then, in classic Raji fashion, she cooks it.

A familiar creator format becomes a fun, natural demo of how Android can turn a random fridge into your next meal.

Android

Android

CURIOSITY ~~KILLS~~ SAVES THE CAT

A creator-led sketch comedy.

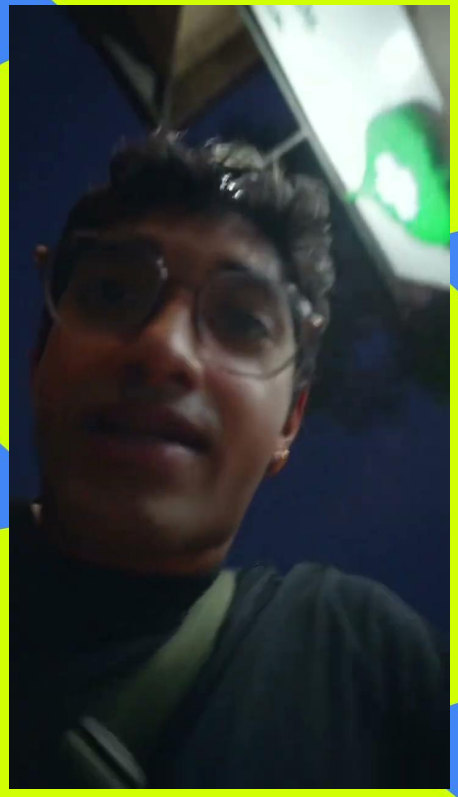

Aryan has to cat-sit for a weekend and, having absolutely no idea what he's doing, gets curious about everything.

Can cats have milk? Why is it making that sound? Does it need a bath? What's that mole?!

He turns to Gemini Live for answers, making the whole weekend increasingly chaotic. By Monday, the cat is safely back with its owner.

Curiosity saved the cat.

Aryan then breaks the fourth wall: "Okay, I made up this entire story just to land that point. But yeah, stay curious. That's why Android"

Android

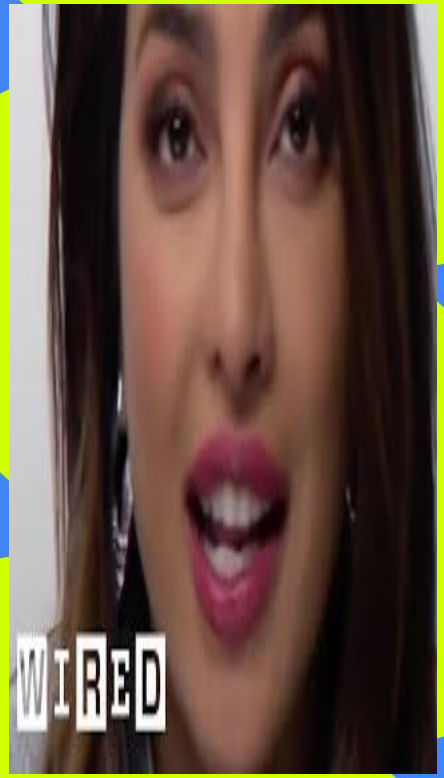

ANDROID PAGLUS

A series featuring well-known cricket personalities who have access to an iPhone, but still choose Android.

In a locker room setup, we simply ask them one question:
“But why Android?”
They share the personal reasons behind their choice that makes Android work better for them.

We’ll also ask feature-led questions that bring out inside jokes, locker-room banter, and a little drama:
“Who has the most suspicious Gemini history?”
“Who knows everything about everything?”
“Who will never use Tap to Pay?”

Suggestion: Jasprit Bumrah, Smriti Mandhana, Shubman Gill

ON-GROUND

Android

THE CITY'S BEST

Forget the tourist spots.
Android will show you where the cool people go!

The moment you step out of the airport, you are greeted by a giant hoarding filled with the city's cult cafés, hidden bars, iconic food joints and cool gigs.

There's just one catch: nothing is labelled.

If something catches your eye, just Circle to Search it to instantly discover its name, story and location.

Because the best way to discover a city is like a local, not a tourist.

THAT'S WHY ANDROID.

Android

WHERE TO NEXT?

Extension:

The night doesn't always end when the bar does.

It’s 12:30 AM. You’re outside the bar, and someone asks, “Ab kya?”

So Android turns the humble bar coaster into your after-hours city guide.

Placed across Mumbai’s favourite bars and cafés, each Circle to Search-shaped coaster features a mystery late-night spot: no name, no address, just enough to make you curious.

Android

ROOM FOR MORE

A clever installation idea.

Running out of storage is a familiar iPhone frustration. Android gives users more flexibility to choose and expand their storage.

Android

THE UNLABELLED MUSEUM

Android partners with NMACC to create an exhibition with no labels, no names and no descriptions.

Visitors use Circle to Search to identify anything that catches their eye.

Instantly uncover its name, story, origin and cultural context through Android.

The museum becomes a place where curiosity is the guide, not the placard.

That’s why Android.

<We can extend this and create themed exhibitions ranging from anime arcs to internet history>

Android

HEAR ME OUT HOTLINE

A retro-style hotline where people can call and talk through anything they have on their mind.

WHY?
Because sometimes you don't need the perfect answer, you just need somewhere to start talking.

Android launches this hotline with Sahiba Bali.
Where, Sahiba Bali listens to work problems, overthought texts, bad ideas or random thoughts.

Every conversation eventually lands on the same reveal:
You can call the Hear Me Out Hotline.
Or just talk to Gemini Live on Android anytime.
